

Conquer Small Clutter Hotspots!

Decluttering often means tackling a big area such as a kitchen or garage. If that feels overwhelming, start small. Tackling a tiny clutter zone gives you a quick win and the motivation to keep going.

The Dumping Zone (i.e., a counter, entryway or chair)

Toss unwanted mail, put what you need in a basket and place your keys on a tray or wall key holder.

The Catch-All Kitchen Drawer

Toss those random plastic takeout utensils, sauce packets, old pens and scraps of paper you don't need.

Bathroom Cabinets

Get rid of half-empty or leaking toiletries and expired products.

Spare Room Closets

Take everything out, then assess what to keep, toss or donate.

Coat Closet

Keep only what you need for the season you are in and store the rest.

The Car

Keep a bag handy for trash and wet wipes to take care of spills.

Digital Clutter

Computer slow? Try deleting old files in your download folder and emptying the recycle bin.

If you need a referral for a service provider for any of your home or yard needs, I'd be happy to connect you with a trusted professional in my network. If one of your goals is to buy or sell a home this year, feel free to contact me with any questions. I'm here to offer clear, concise information you can trust.